

CALIFORNIA WATERFOWL HONOR ROLL

Membership is the lifeblood of California Waterfowl, and those who invest in membership levels of Life Member or higher play an important role in the organization: Life Member payments go into a special Hunting Protection Fund that CWA uses to defend hunting rights in California. We are also fortunate to have supporters who have achieved high levels of cumulative giving — Bronze Benefactor and above. It is our honor to thank all of these supporters here. Listings are based on based on membership status as of July 1.

LIFE MEMBERSHIP AND ABOVE

There are four levels in our life membership program, and you can work your way up through the levels or immediately go to whatever level you desire. You can also make either a single payment or annual payments. Many of our banquets feature Life Member raffles where members can make their annual payments and be entered in a special raffle for a gun.

More information: Go to www.calwaterfowl.org/membership, or contact Membership Services Coordinator Sharon Toovey at stoovey@calwaterfowl.org or 916-648-1406, Ext. 113.

Todd Ellinwood, his grandson Mason and his son-in-law Dave Macintosh

FOR THE ELLINWOODS, LIFE MEMBERSHIP RUNS IN THE FAMILY

by ANDREW CREASEY, ASSOCIATE EDITOR

Todd Ellinwood's family is full of duck hunters, and, thanks to his generosity, it's also full of California Waterfowl life members.

It started years ago, when Ellinwood – a longtime CWA Life Member – bought life memberships for his sons, Randy and Todd, who are both avid duck hunters.

When he welcomed his first grandson, Mason, to the family last year, he decided to continue the tradition by purchasing a life membership for Mason and Ellinwood's son in law, Dave Macintosh. Mason was just eight days old, making him CWA's youngest Life Member ever.

Like many California hunters, Ellinwood strives to spread his love of hunting to the next generation, and purchasing CWA life memberships for his family was one more way to accomplish that goal.

"It's an extra step to continue to support an organization that I feel does a great job for hunting and is a great conservation group that looks out for 2nd Amendment rights," Ellinwood said. "What's more important is bringing the next generation along to continue to support the organization, and when they have kids, their kids will do the same thing."

Ellinwood's passion for duck hunting started at a young age and has continued unabated. From his duck club in the Suisun Marsh, the Grizzly Hilton, he enjoys the camaraderie of fellow hunters, the beauty of seeing the marsh come to life, the challenge of working ducks with his call, and the thrill of knocking them down.

"It's a pretty complex experience," Ellinwood said. "To watch my kids grow up and share that was unbelievable. And I know they'll get to experience the same with their children."
